I am in receipt of your letters quoted above. wish to inform you that I am now residing with my eldest son who is quite distant from my native place and also the place of the death of my husband. As the succession certificate, letter of administration or probate can be issued by the civil court which has jurisdiction over my native place where there is immovable property of my husband or the place of death of my husband, I find myself most inconvenient and troublesome to obtain the same in view of my weak health and age. In addition it will take a pretty long time to obtain the same from the civil court. With a view to expedite the matter as the case is pending since a long time and to fulfil your audit requirements, I am prepared to get the consent note from my sons who have claims over the deceased property on hearing from you. In this connection I wish to point out that the Postal life Insurance policy of the deceased was obtained likewise.

Awaiting for your early favourable reply.

I am not able to see the facts of the case. What is the value of the policy? Why was it assigned to Govt? If it was assigned to Govt what are our interests in it? How can they be safeguarded before reassigning to the applicant. Who are the legal heirs of the deceased in the absence of proper assignment?

With reference to the queries of D.S on p 2 ante, the particulars are not available from the Current file. If the deceased Govt. Servant took a loan from the GPF to pay the insurance premia, the policy would be assigned to the Govt. It is presumed that in this case, the policy ~~was~~ was assigned to the Govt for the same reason. To be more certain, it is desirable to ascertain these facts from the DA. Under rule 22(2), the policy can be re-assigned only to the person legally entitled to receive it. Strictly speaking, the policy can only be reassigned to the person producing a succession certificate, letters of administration or probate. There is no provision for re-assignment to a person after taking an indemnity bond from him, as in the case of payment of the provident fund amount (see the Notes to rule 30). There seems, however, to be no objection to re-assigning the policy to the ~~Indian~~ widow, as a special case, provided she gets the consent of her sons and ~~furnishes~~ grants an indemnity bond with sufficient sureties.
